All's not well with state's education sector: CM

Govt to set up Meghalaya Education Recruitment Board
School textbooks to be adapted from NCERT

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Nov 16: Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma on Thursday admitted that all was not well with the education sector in Meghalaya and that the government was deeply concerned about the same.

He said that the state Cabinet has taken some decisions following a series of deliberations with the stakeholders. The prominent among the decisions taken by the Cabinet include the constitution of the Meghalaya Education Recruitment Board (MERB).

As there are about 187 vacancies in primary, higher secondary, and technical and technical education levels which the vacancies have not been filled in four years, the board would handle the recruitment process and expedite the recruitment process.

The board will be directed to complete the recruitment process within 3 to 6 months. It will also be the overarching body for taking care of recruitment and all education-related matters in the state.

The Cabinet further decided to adopt NCERT textbooks in schools with modifications in certain subjects to be decided out by the Meghalaya Board of Secondary Education.

Sangma said the decision will allow the adaptation of the NCERT textbooks with necessary modifications from classes I to X.

For schools teaching in local or vernacular language (from classes I to V), the necessary changes in language will be done for the adaptation to take place.

Sangma said the process for Phase I will start in the next academic year.

"After consultation and research with many stakeholders in the education system, we concluded that the MBOSE textbooks, especially for mathematics, science and English, are not up to the national standards," he said while adding that the adaptation aims to improve the overall quality of textbooks, learning outcomes, and quality of content, which will also lead to the reduction in the number of textbooks.

"We will also ensure the curriculum is adapted to the national curriculum and have local content based on our culture and history," the CM added.

Insisting that the burden of textbooks will reduce for students following the decision, he said 11 textbooks for classes I, II, and III can be replaced by four textbooks under NCERT.

"There will be an improvement in the quality of the content to be imparted to the students. It will be in conformity to the requirements at the national level including the learning outcomes," Sangma said.

The Cabinet also emphasised that local contents, based on culture, history, and uniqueness, would not be diluted.

Fiscal Act amended

The Cabinet also decided to amend the Meghalaya Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act, 2006, following which there will be 0.5% increase in the budget borrowing.

Sangma said the Act was amended last year as per the Union government's decision to allow the states to increase their budget borrowings based on reforms taken by the states on an annual basis.

Last year, Meghalaya's borrowing limit was increased by 4% while this year it has been hiked to 4.5% to allow the state to increase its borrowings by Rs 400 crore.

Department renamed

In another decision, the Cabinet approved the renaming of the Labour Department as the Department of Labour Employment & Skill Development.

City skywalk project put on hold

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Nov 16: The construction of an upscale walkway from Barik Point to Khyndai Lad was announced by the state government earlier this year with the goal of encouraging people to walk, which will reduce traffic. However, like countless other projects, this one has also been placed on hold.

Chief Minister Conrad Sangma announced on Thursday that the project was in the implementation phase, but he also cautioned that once construction begins, there would be severe traffic congestion.

As a result, the government has chosen to postpone the project until more plans are in place to clear the area's traffic up.

The government had earmarked Rs 25 crore to connect the skywalk to connect Barik Point with Khyndai Lad and enhance pedestrian traffic. (Contd on P-4)

Mukroh case set to be handed over to CBI

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Nov 16: Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma on Thursday said the process to hand over the Mukroh firing incident to the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) will be taken up now.

"These are decisions that have to be implemented in full... The process has to be followed and the process requires both the states to sign the minutes of the meeting. Once the minutes are signed by the chief ministers, only then it is taken as official. The process requires time... even one comma can change the meaning of minutes," Sangma told reporters.

He also said that he and his Assam counterpart Himanta Biswa Sarma have signed the meeting minutes and now, the official process of communicating the same to the commissions concerned and central government will be taken up.

Stating that there are other aspects in the minutes that both states mentioned, Sangma said, "We will see the withdrawal of forces from different states in different areas at a substantial level. I don't want to go into details."

In this regard, he said tensions will go down substantially in sensitive locations.

The CM-level talks between Assam and Meghalaya on the interstate boundary issues had decided to wind up the judicial commission which was instituted to probe the Mukroh firing incident and replace it with an independent inquiry by the CBI. The CBI will register the case at a neutral place other than Guwahati and Shillong to maintain the neutrality of investigation.

Meanwhile, talking about the proposed visit to the border areas, he said, "I am in touch with the Assam CM for our pending visit to Block I and Khanduli Pstiar. (Contd on P-4)

Conrad plays down Shillong LS seat quandary

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Nov 16: NPP national president and Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma on Thursday neither denied nor disagreed with reports that his party has been holding discussions with Trinamool Congress vice-president George B Lyngdoh.

He also said the party has "multiple options" for fielding candidates for the Lok Sabha elections but everybody would accept the decision taken collectively.

His statement followed reports that the Dhar Group, a prominent business house, has been exerting pressure on the NPP to nominate Dasakhiatba Lamare from the Shillong Lok Sabha seat. The group is said to be backed by six to seven MLAs.

Speculations are also rife that a section of NPP leaders is keen on bringing TMC leader Lyngdoh aboard but the possibility was negated after the (Contd on P-4)

Normalcy returns to NEHU as JAC ends agitation

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Nov 16: Normalcy is finally expected to return to the North-Eastern Hill University (NEHU) after the Joint Action Committee (JAC), protesting against Vice Chancellor Prabha Shankar Shukla, decided to end their agitation following a meeting between the two factions on Thursday.

JAC chairman Lakhon Kma announced that the group had decided to temporarily halt its agitations.

He added that the decision was made in response to the VC's request for five days to respond to all of their demands, including the removal of Rohit Prasad from his position as senior consultant and technical officer at the university.

Kma said a decision was taken to form two committees: one to review the educationally underdeveloped areas quota, with a chairman chosen by the students, and another to look into the marking system, hostel accommodations, and health care.

The NEHU Academic Council will choose the chairman and members of the second committee.

In addition, he said, the VC promised to relieve the teaching and non-teaching staff of their ministerial responsibilities and to address the demand for the appointment of university engineers and statutory officers.

The next meeting of the AC is scheduled for the first week of December, during which the majority of these issues will be deliberated and a decision made.

Kma also informed that the university will schedule an annual convocation event and that the VC has also consented to allow students to have a representative on the Academic Council.

'Recognition of languages riddled with challenges'

By Our Reporter

SHILLONG, Nov 16: Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma on Thursday said the state government is keen to make Khasi and Garo the state's official languages but there are logistical challenges and that aspect is being examined.

"The issue of declaring a language as an official language depends on the definition of official language," he said.

"There are logistical challenges in terms of a simple aspect like if tomorrow the noting of government files is done in Garo language, will that be an issue? How will we handle that? If somebody makes a noting in Garo and suppose, the officer speaks Khasi and English and is not able to make comments or understand, then we will have challenges in the governance process," Sangma explained.

"If that aspect is going to be included if it is an official language, how do we overcome that challenge? And if we remove (Contd on P-4)

Cabinet approves increase in govt borrowing limit

Staff Reporter
Shillong, Nov 16: The State Cabinet today approved the amendment of the Meghalaya Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act, 2006 to increase the government's borrowing limit by another 5 per cent.

Addressing media persons after the meeting, Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma said last year also the Act was amended and this was done because the Government of India has allowed different state governments to increase their budget borrowing based on reforms taken by specific states on an annual basis.

"Last year, the reforms that were taken place by the state government in different departments allowed us to increase our budget borrowing limits up to 4 per cent and this year again, based on the power reforms that we are taking there will be 5 per cent increase in the budget borrowing that is allowed," he said while adding that "annually it has to be amended so the particular Act through an ordinance is being amended today."

Sangma said the borrowing limit will roughly go up to Rs 400 crore.

"Every year it is only 3 per cent but they allow 3 per cent to be increased to 5 and another 5 per cent based on specific reforms that the state government do. So this year we are working with the central government and based on the reforms the adoption is taking place and this 5 per cent additional is allowed to be taken by the state government," he added.

He said that the borrowing limit was approximately Rs 900 crore, last year.

JAC decides to suspend strike in NEHU

Staff Reporter
Shillong, Nov 16: The Joint Action Committee (JAC) of the NEHUTA, NEHUNSA and NEHUSU today decided to suspend its indefinite strike after the University's vice chancellor Prof PS Shukla sought five days' time to look into the charter of demands including removal of the technical officer/senior consultant.

After a meeting the VC, JAC chairman Prof Lakhon Kma said, "We have decided to temporarily suspend our agitation and from tomorrow classes will resume, teaching staff can take their respective classes and non-teaching staff can go back to their respective offices."

He said the decision was taken after the VC had requested five days' time to address all demands made by the JAC which includes the termination of Rohit Prasad as a technical officer/senior consultant of the university.

The meeting was a success although the VC could not provide the official letter of terminating Prasad.

Prof Kma also informed that the VC has agreed to form a committee to address the issue related to the marking system and relating to grievances of the hostel facilities and health care.

"The VC had left it to the students to select a chairman who will head the committee to look into the demand to revisit the marking system of the university," he said.

He added the VC also assured to address the demand to appoint Statutory Officers and University Engineers and to relieve teaching and non-teaching staff from ministerial duties.

On the demand to review the educationally backward areas quota, Prof Kma informed that the VC had agreed to form a committee which will be decided by the AC on its chairman and members.

"The VC had promised the JAC that the next AC meeting will be held in the first week of December

Shillong, Nov 16: In a major decision, the Meghalaya Democratic Alliance government today announced the adaptation of the National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT) textbooks by the Meghalaya Board of School Education (MBOSE) for classes I to X from the next academic year.

Addressing media persons after a cabinet meeting, Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma said, "We have approved the proposal for adaptation of NCERT textbooks based on certain modifications in certain subjects will be done by the MBOSE from now on."

He said that the adaptation of NCERT textbooks with necessary modifications will be from class I to X and will take place from the next academic year.

Sangma said there are certain schools that are in the local or vernacular language the classes are taught, for them from class I to V, the adaptation or the necessary changes in the language will be done.

"Once translation language is then the action will place," he said.

The chief minister said that this move is important because the government is concerned in the all education system.

The decision was also taken after conducting thorough and consultative and different stakeholder level consultation system.

"(After we have concluded that books that are in the MBOSE when it comes to standardized science, English, mathematics - that at the national level improve the quality of the text adopting the

CM extends greet to press fraternity

Staff Reporter
Shillong, Nov 16: Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma today extended his best wishes to the press fraternity on the occasion of the National Press Day.

"I would like to take this opportunity to really acknowledge the contributions that is made by the press fraternity in our democracy in our country and not just from a political perspective or governance perspective but even in terms of the different aspects of our sports, culture, music, the press plays a very important role in ensuring that we are able to really bring out all these different things that are happening at a larger level to the rest of the country and to our state as a whole," Sangma told reporters.

"So I appreciate and I acknowledge the work of the press and would like them to continue to do that all the information in the public manner."

Urging the continuation of the Sangma said in the future Press will work in the cause it is very proud in a state democracy of the press is important all the wish you pay Nation
